

GONNA GET YOU

(Words & Music by Greg Barnett and Mike Levy © CLANCYS MUSIC 2001)

- capo 0

A
Butter was not good for you but it's come back from the bin

D A
Red meat was a no-no, alcohol a sin

E F E F E
Everything is harmful when it's put with-in

A7 E A
But at least you can be comfortable you'll not die too thin

A
Coffee tea and nicotine have had their share of bile

D A
The experts offer other things that are nothing short of vile

E F E F E
Is there such an X-File of which we've not been told

A E A
Our parents were untouched by much that stopped them growing old

CHORUS

---

G A G A
Something's gonna get you, it'll get you in the end

G F C B7
It may be quick it may be slow you'll never know just when

D E D E
Grow and stretch up all you can but a constant pull exists

G F E
To cut you down stab you in the back, have you slashing at your wrists

---

A

It might be in the water, it could be in the air

D

A

You can't smell see or touch it but it must be everywhere

E

F E

F

E

It's right there behind you, for God's sake turnaround

A

You'd better move on fast my friend before the scythe comes down

A

A little exercise is not enough, too much will break you down

Keep your newborn baby clean, don't let it touch the ground

E

F E F

E

Your water comes in bottles, flies avoid your food

E A

It makes you think that after all life isn't quite so good CHORUS

Last verse slowly

A

A moving song is hard to write when you lead an easy life

A home, a car, three meals a day, lovely kids and wife

E

E

E

Bad things go down round the world, you hear it every day

A

How could you ever think that things were really not OK

CHORUS

and instrumental Verse outro
