

THE CLOUD/UBERVEILLANCE Part I

Misty view, muffled sound
Opting out is not allowed
Chipped and tagged, stored away
We're all living in the cloud

The "always on" mobile generation
Greed and instant gratification
Throwaway upgrade nation
Freedom? No. Optimisation

Just for tonight let's try direct
Don't need no password to connect
Stop drowning in this digital void
Save our precious love from being destroyed

The blue light makes you stay
In touch every second of the day
Follow friends who follow you
No one caring who is who

Addicted but can't turn away
Hate myself but have to play
Propaganda. Disinformation.
Information annihilation

Can we kiss by candlelight
Don't want to meet on-line tonight
Let my Cloud drift in your sky
Give our romance baby one more try

No-one's talking or saying 'stop'
Jack me in then jack me off
Bits and bytes betraying you
Track your moves, track what we do.

We're oh so smart and oh so clever
Our data's stored somewhere forever
Data gulags, no control
In the Cloud that has no soul

Don't need no Bible or Koran
A Face Book rules the world we're from Flip the switch, right the wrong
Turn it off, let me turn you on
